Headline: 10th International Conference on Mechanochemistry and Mechanical Alloying 2022 (INCOME2022) in collaboration with COST Action CA18112 Mechanochemistry for Sustainable Industry (<https://www.mechsustind.eu>).

Description: INCOME is the most important convention dedicated to the science of physical and chemical transformations initiated and driven by mechanical forces. Since 1993, INCOME offers to scientists working in the field a few days of intense dissemination. Old and new ideas are lively debated under the captivating atmosphere created by the presentation of most recent results and the discussion of most urgent research needs. From Slovakia to Russia, from Czech Republic to Germania and, again, from Russia to India, from Montenegro to Poland and, finally, to Slovakia once more, a single thread has ideally run throughout time and space. It has tied fundamental issues and practical aspects, contributing to create an awesome melting pot of physicists, chemists, engineers, geologists and biologists devoted to cross-contamination at the cutting edge of science and technology.

INCOME2022 will be held in-person with possibility of virtual attendance (hybrid format). For more information, visit: <https://www.income2022.it/>

Where: June 6-10, 2022, in Cagliari, in the South of Sardinia (Italy)

Abstract submission deadline: March 31st, 2022. For more information, visit: <https://www.income2022.it/general-information/>

Registration deadline: Early-bird fee: available until March 31st, 2022, midnight (CET). For more information, visit: <https://www.income2022.it/registration/>

Manuscripts: A call for paper is open for the Special Issue of Green Chemistry Letters and Reviews entitled Progress in Organic Mechanochemistry, guest-edited by Prof. Evelina Colacino (Université de Montpellier, France), Prof. Francesco Delogu (Università degli Studi di Cagliari, Italy) and Prof. James Mack (University of Cincinnati, Ohio, USA) - Manuscript deadline is 31 March 2022.

We look forward to welcoming you at INCOME2022.
